1. Latest release

This document describes the enhancements and modifications included in the latest release of Data360 Govern, and highlights any changes that may affect your current implementation.

For information on previous releases, and for user and administration topics, please see the integrated product help. You can access the help by clicking the Help icon, positioned towards the right of the header bar.

1.1 What's new

Search for assets by semantic type

You can now filter by the name or qualifier of a semantic type on the Search Results page after searching for an asset from the home page or by using the header bar search. This enables you to locate assets that have been classified with a specific semantic type, across asset types.

If an asset has a semantic type, the semantic type information is displayed on the search results card.

For more information, see the "Browsing and searching semantic types" topic in the help.

User interface enhancements

- The look and feel of buttons across the application has been updated as part of an effort to improve consistency and readability across the whole user interface.
- The color of the Information button has been changed to more easily distinguish when an item is selected. This change applies to the asset and relationship create and edit dialogs.
- The display of column headings on the Semantic Types page has been improved. Previously when resizing the list grid, column headings wrapped inconsistently. Now, column headings are fixed at the top of the table when you scroll and the column heading text is displayed on one line rather than wrapping. If you view the grid on a smaller screen, or if you expand the side panel, list grids will now scroll horizontally when necessary and the menu button will remain visible on the right edge of the grid.

Other changes

- The global search algorithm has been adjusted. Underscores are now only treated as word breaks for asset names. If included in the search term, underscores are included in the ranking of search results.
- When configuring an Input Type of Relation Lookup, you can now select fields on the target asset type which have been configured using the Asset Path input type.
